

Mission to Mars

Ranvir (EYFS A) worked on a summer project, 'Mars Mission to NASA' – California institute of Technology. His submission has been featured on the NASA website along with the work of other students from across the globe. He has been issued a Boarding Pass which endorses that his name will be travelling to Mars on NASA's next Mars Mission along with other names selected.

From Farm to Kitchen

A virtual visit to the Amritam Global Wellness farm with entrepreneur Devli Sehgal. She created a product- Milk. From cows to us, Ms Devli showed us the process of how milk is taken from the cows, packaged and then sold in bottles. Happy with her product being able to reach children, she created some more products. She even showed us the traditional 'bilona' process of churning ghee and buttermilk.

Entrepreneurs' Race to Space

Remember we all learnt about Richard Branson who went to space in his Unity 22 spaceplane? Now, another entrepreneur, Jeff Bezos has gone to space. Do you know who he is? Have you seen your parents do online shopping at Amazon? Jeff Bezos is the founder of Amazon. To make his space trip special, he also carried a very special pair of goggles which were once used by the pilot Amelia Earhart.

Child prodigy – Chryseis Knight

Do you know who she is? Her name is Chryseis Knight and she is one of the youngest authors in the world. At the age of three she wrote and illustrated her book – “The Great Lion”. So just like her, you all can also become Ardeepreneurs and start creating your own product at an early age.

Mirabai Chanu wins Silver Medal at Olympics

Many many years ago there was a little girl, and her name was Mira. She lived in Nongpok Sekmai, a village in the eastern corner of Imphal. Imphal is a city in a state called Manipur. Manipur state is in India and lies in the Eastern direction of India.

Mira had six brothers and sisters and her parents had to work very hard as they were not wealthy. Her mother ran a tea stall and sold tea and her father worked as a laborer. When Mira was five years old, she had no water taps in her house and had to go far to collect water in a bucket. Mira realized she was very strong as she could carry the bucket of water on her head and walk very easily with it, without dropping the water. She did not find it heavy.

Mirabai Chanu wins Silver Medal at Olympics

When Mira was 12 years old, she had to go to the forest to collect wood to bring home and give it to her mother and father so they could light a fire. They needed fire to cook their food. One day her big brother saw that the big bundle of heavy wood which he could not carry was carried by Mira very easily. As Mira was very hard working and had strong muscles, she joined a sports academy. She started training to lift weights. She worked very hard and practiced a lot. She helped her mother and obeyed her coach.

Four years ago, she was sent by India to the Olympics in Rio. Mira lost in the competition. She and her mother cried a lot. They were very sad. Mirabai wanted to stop lifting weights and not play sports. But she did not give up. She started practicing again and worked very hard.

Now do you know what happened at the Tokyo Olympics a few days ago? She has won a Silver medal at the Tokyo Olympics. India is very proud of her as after 21 years an Indian has won a silver medal in weightlifting at the Olympics.
